

Coverage continuation options for employees

Keeping your life insurance active

Stay protected. Keep life insurance active by electing conversion or portability/continuation.

When eligibility for coverage ends under the group contract, an insured person may have the following two options:

Conversion: An employee's group term life insurance is converted to an individual permanent life insurance policy. Accidental death and dismemberment (AD&D) coverage is not available.

Portability/continuation: An employee's group term life insurance is continued through direct billing with Lincoln. AD&D may be eligible to continue along with your life coverage.

Employees may be eligible to convert or port basic life, optional/voluntary life, and dependent life coverage. Certain limitations and restrictions apply.

How do conversion and portability/continuation compare?

Eligibility An employee may convert their group life insurance coverages to an individual life insurance policy if their coverage terminates in whole or in part due to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Retirement or termination of employment ▪ Retiree coverage ending ▪ Reduction in coverage due to age ▪ A change in employee status that results in a loss of eligibility An employee's dependent spouse or child(ren) may also continue their coverage due to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Employee's death ▪ Divorce from employee ▪ When the employee's child is no longer a dependent ▪ Employee approved for waiver 	Eligibility An employee may be eligible to port their employee life and/or dependent spouse and/or child(ren) coverage to a separate direct bill group life insurance plan if their coverage terminates. Eligibility may require a minimum number of months covered under the group plan. Eligible coverage termination reasons may include but are not limited to employment termination, retirement prior to SSNRA, and reduction in hours. Individual's age and the group or port plan rates determine the plan premium for the continued coverage.
Evidence of insurability (documentation of health history) and cost of coverage Evidence of insurability is not required. Several factors, including the individual's age, gender, state of residence, and tobacco status at the time of conversion, determine the plan premium for the individual policy.	Evidence of insurability (documentation of health history) and cost of coverage Evidence of insurability may or may not be required based on the level of coverage applied for.
Increasing or decreasing coverage amounts after the initial application Once coverage is converted, employees may not increase the coverage amount. Options to decrease coverage may be available at the time of application for conversion. If decreasing after policy placement, contact the Customer Care Center.	Increasing or decreasing coverage amounts after the initial application Coverage amounts may be increased or decreased depending on the group plan owner's contractual provisions.
Coverage reduction and termination Coverage will terminate at policy maturity. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Policy maturity varies between ages 95 and 121, based on premium contribution and the benefit amount selected. ▪ Cash value is paid out as a living benefit if the insured person is alive on the policy maturity date. 	Coverage reduction and termination <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Employee: variable ▪ Spouse: variable ▪ Child(ren): variable
Cash value and loans If the policy was converted to a universal life individual policy, it will build cash value.	Cash value and loans This plan will not build a cash value. Because of this, loans are not permissible.
Surrendering the policy Converted policies to an individual universal life insurance policy can be surrendered for cash value.	Surrendering the plan As there is no cash value, there is no option to surrender. The employee may stop paying premiums at any time and the plan will lapse.
Canceling the policy The insured person may cancel a policy before the scheduled maturity date. The insurance company may also cancel the policy due to nonpayment of premium.	Canceling the plan The plan can be canceled by the plan owner by written request or by the insurance company due to nonpayment of premium.
